DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Snowball et al. in view of Schiebelhuth.

There is disclosed in Snowball a coffee maker comprising: a basket 6 having an opening 44; a chamber (housing area) below the opening; a bowl 48 being provided in the chamber; a door 4 provided on the outside of the chamber; an outlet 52, 54 disposed at a bottom of the bowl; and a control device (valve) 56 provided to close up or open the outlet.

Schiebelhuth discloses a thermostat 21 and heating tube 2 arrangement provided in a chamber 13 which supports a bowl 9.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the chamber of Snowball with the heating tube and thermostat arrangement disclosed in Schiebelhuth, in order to keep warm the beverage within the bowl.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Wu.

Wu discloses that it is known in the art to use a valve 5 having a rod shape containing a valve block and spring arrangement to control an outlet.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the valve arrangement of Snowball, as modified by Schiebelhuth, with that disclosed in Wu, in order to provide an alternative arrangement for controlling the flow of liquid from the valve.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Naya et al., Neumann, Weller et al. and Takatsuki et al. are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
